Since the vehicle has been parked the ignition key has been lost so the steering column is locked. The paint has started to peel on the hood. The interior is in rough shape and is very dirty but could be restored with a little work. The body on the vehicle is fairly solid with just a few small signs of rust in the back fender wells. The trunk and rear end are exactly how they look in the pictures from being rear ended. There is also a small tear in the convertiable top but it is very small. This is a one owner car that was driven as a second or third pleasure car since new. The lady who owned the car told me it had been used very little in the past 6-7 years. Roughly three years ago at 74,400 miles it was given a full service and stored away in a garage, and almost untouched since. It now shows 74,800 miles, and yes the odometer works! This car is 100% original, never hit, and nobody has started a restoration in a half hearted manner. It was repainted once, in its original white, but will need new paint again if you want a show winner. As you can see, it was treated with a commercial rust preventative when delivered new, and it was done well. All four shock towers are rust free, as are the inner front fenders, floor, trunk floor, door bottoms, and nose. The rear wheel arches had bubbles in the paint, so I aggressively went at them with a screwdriver and wire brush, and then painted them with rustoleum. I did the same to two small spots on the doors. Windshield and other glass is fine. The trim is in excellent condition, no rips, or cuts in any panels. Even the seams on the seats are good. The dash is in amazing condition, which shows the car was garaged all its life. The top is original, with to rips or splits, but the windows have turned cloudy; I have not tried to put it down due to the cold weather. The original burgundy top cover is also in excellent shape. I removed an old luggage rack which was rusty, and covered the holes with duct tape to keep out the weather. I also removed a busted radio antenna and covered the hole. The carpets are good overall, but the drivers floor carpet is missing, I put a rubber mat in the drivers side. She starts on the first turn of the key, does not smoke, does not overheat. Cooling fan comes on and of as it should, all	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Der Spider wurde von mir 1993 erworben. Ich habe es von dem Vorbesitzer der Soldat in einer amerikanischen Kaserne (bei Heidelberg) gewesen ist erworben und in Deutschland eingeführt. Seit dem ist das Fahrzeug in meinem Besitz. 2000 wurde das Fahrzeug komplett restauriert inkl Motor, er wurde mit (BMW) Leder (safrangelb) beledert inkl Türhäute, hintere Sitzbank, hintere Verkleidungen. Dabei wurde vorne auch eine Sitzheizung verbaut. Neues Verdeck, neuer Teppichsatz, Stoßstanden wurden verchromt, und sowohl alle furnierten Teile, als auch die Armlehnen in der Türe und?aschaltknauf wurden aus Mahagoni (Vollmaterial) nachgefertigt. Der Wagen wurde (fast original) in einer VW Farbe (burgundidark perleffekt) lackiert. Gerade erst wurde die komplette Vorderachse inkl Radlager (Rechnung natürlich vorhanden) in Stand gesetzt. Wegen der immer wieder langen Standzeiten habe ich das Fahrzeug auf wasserlose Kühlflüssigkeit (aus dem Rennsport) umgebaut. Es wurde auch schon ein neuer Tank verbaut und der Kühler wurde auch im Zuge der Restaurierung erneuert. Alle Nebenaggregate sind von Bosch. Das Fahrzeug wurde nach der. Restaurierung nicht mehr im Regen bewegt. Die originalen 13" Alufelgen sind auch vorhanden. Aktuell ist eine Edelstahlabgasanlage montiert, ab Krümmer ohne KAT, da das Fahrzeug ein H Kennzeichen hat. Zum Verkauf steht ein wunderschöner Fiat 124 Spider aus dem Jahr 1977, der sich seit 2011 in meinem Besitz befindet. In dieser Zeit wurde er von Grund auf und mit viel Liebe zum Detail restauriert. Der Motor wurde komplett überholt, der Vergaser erneuert und der Zylinderkopf überarbeitet. Auch die Elektrik wurde vollständig erneuert, inklusive neuem Kabelbaum. Der Innenraum wurde komplett restauriert – Sitze, Teppiche und Verkleidungen präsentieren sich wie neu. Die Karosserie ist absolut rostfrei, die Lackierung gepflegt und der Wagen wurde stets trocken und geschützt gelagert. Seit der Restauration wurden lediglich rund 5.000 km gefahren. Da der Spider seit 2017 nicht mehr regelmäßig bewegt wurde, habe ich mich entschieden, ihn in gute Hände abzugeben, damit er wieder die Aufmerksamkeit und Bewegung bekommt, die er verdient. Rechnungen von über 20.000 € für die durchgeführten Arbeiten sind vorhanden und belegen den hohen Aufwand, der in dieses Fahrzeug investiert wurde. Der Fiat fährt sich traumhaft. Most of the car's life was spent in California, and it only came to the Northeast in 2010, still with its original owner. The seller acquired the car last year, and they note numerous services performed within the last 5k miles, including a rebuild of the transmission, new clutch, top end rebuild, engine re-seal, new control arms and bushings, and more. The car now shows 29k miles and is sold with a clean New York title. Located in Riverside, CT. Auctioned at BaT in 06/2017: Sold For $10,000. Update 11/2021: New owner. Former New York car. Mileage: (1)31806. Vehicle Title: Clear. Very clean. Runs, drives, and looks great. I had the gearbox rebuilt soon after buying it and just put on a brand new top. Everything works except the clock (it's a 1978 FIAT) and the backlighting on the dashboard. The dash has the typical cracks right next to the defroster vent as can be seen in the pictures. There are a couple of minor tears on the seat covers but I have brand new seat covers in plastic that I will include with the car. It's in excellent shape overall. Other than a couple of carb adjustments, it has needed no work. This car has been extremely reliable for me - it has never not started or broken down. Auctioned at Ebay in 11/2021 for: Starting bid: US $5,000.00 reserve not met. Update 08/2025: New owner. Former Maryland car. Mileage 33000. Vehicle Title Clean. Recent additions include 4 new tires, new convertible top, recent transmission service and professional repaint job in the factory original color, Savannah Ivory. Also included is a new seats upholstery kit, ready for installation. The car runs on regular unleaded gas and gets 20+ mpg. The original owner's manual is included and yes, it shows you how to perform many basic maintenance items including tune-ups. Clear Illinois title. No rust. I had the driver's seat reupholstered. I also installed an over-ride toggle switch to run radiator fan (with relay) and a radiator bleed valve at the highest point in cooling system. 56,000 original miles. I have several thousands in receipts from a previous owner. It's not perfect, has a few rust bubbles in some of the usual spots. Comes with a set of newer high headrest cloth seats. They were in the car when I bought it, but I put the originals back in. I also replaced the hood so it is newly painted with multi-stage paint. Top could use some professional adjustment. After 17 years of rebuilding/restoring and adding to it, time for it to move onto another owner. Engine is a 2 liter but does have a 0.3mm overbore with little higher compression pistons. 2 liter head has been ported,shaved and 3 angle ground. Lightened flywheel, Aftermarket cams give it more torque, I find a bit more gas works just as well as a downshift. Adjustable cam wheels and degree'd in. header and 2.25" exhaust. Bigger sway bar in front and a rear bar added. Koni shocks. New this year battery. Aftermarket/bigger radiator. high torque starter. 205/50-15 Continental tires on 15" wheels. Cloth top. Fiat 500 front brake upgrade. Many other little upgrades has made this car a delight to drive. This was brought up from Oregon years ago as a mostly rust free 1980 Fi car to restore. I did the mechanicals and interior and a body shop did the little bit of cutting and welding. Took a while to get the paint sorted as there were a few attempts that ended up being shite. Update 09/2024: This 1968 Fiat 124 Spider is on the road, MOT'd in July-24 (expiry July-25). Logbook. Historic Vehicle registered so no tax or MoT necessary, but I MoT'd in July to find if anything needed. I bought this Fiat 124 last year, previous owner had it for many years, driven a lot. The car drove fine on purchase and bought it as a project. I bought another Fiat 124 that was dismantled with lots of mechaical refurbishment, including engine (I think 1700cc) which is now in this one. A classic Fiat UK specialist (Italicar) swapped the engines in March-24, cleaned and sprayed the engine bay prior to replacement refurbished engine installation. Additional new parts - battery (August-24), new alloy wheels and tyres (original wheels, tyres and caps included), new bumpers, new bumper lights, new grille (changed style, original included), refurbed alternator. The body is mostly solid. I have un-covered the areas in need of attention, some welding and filler oddly just one side (driver's side), and full re-spray and it will be a great example. I ordered a new thermostate in July owing to engine running a little hot, I tested new thermostate before installtion and that was faulty and they have not replaced it since. So I have left thermo out for now. Update 07/2025: 86,000 Miles. 1756cc. Imported to the United Kingdom in 1993 and converted to RHD. The previous owner upgraded the engine to 1756 twin camshaft. The current owner carried out a bare-metal restoration in June 2025. The car looks stunning in Rossi Corsa, sits on new wheels and tires. Many new interior parts. Lots of receipts and a new MOT. The car was sold as a 1983 spider but when I received I noticed that it might be a 1979 or earlier year. I found two VINs in the engine compartment: one engraved on the chassis (124CS10133766), the other one on a plate positioned just below the engraved one (1248S10050496). Update 06/2025: Mileage 58000. Transimission Manual. Vehicle Title Clean. Fiat 124 Spider 1978 - it starts, runs and stops. It's an advanced project. The Spider has new tires, original Cromodora rims, new disk brakes, calipers etc, new spark plugs, coils, distribution system, gas tank has been cleaned, new gas filter, new battery. It needs new floors (available after market), tapestry and paint (one spot of superficial rust and couple aesthetic body issues). Soft top is in great shape. Other than that engine works strong. I have bill of sale, bought at auction. Easy to get title because it's considered historic car. For sale: US $2.450,00.	US	Safety	man.	1800 cc

I bought the car in Germany from a private collector. The car underwent renovation about 5 years ago, during which all body and paintwork was done - it currently presents itself very well. Mechanically, the car works without any issues. In Germany, the car had an engine overhaul. After bringing it to Poland, a gearbox repair was carried out at a renowned workshop specializing in repairs and restoration of classic cars, Classic Parts Staniszewski. Furthermore, I also commissioned a comprehensive inspection of the car, and all minor faults (e.g., electrical) were addressed. For sale: 54 900 PLN.	US	Custom	man.	132A1.040.6

De auto heb ik sinds 1980 in bezit en heb deze destijds van de eerste eigenaresse gekocht. De auto is sinds aanschaf hobbymatig bereden, netjes onderhouden maar is nooit echt gerestaureerd. Wel is er in de jaren tachtig wat spuitwerk verricht en op een later moment (begin jaren 2000) is de auto opnieuw geheel overgespoten. Zo'n 8.900 km geleden is, in 2018, de motor nog gereviseerd door een specialist, hiervan is een factuur aanwezig. Er wordt momenteel weinig met de Fiat gereden. De originele kunststof motorkap is niet op de auto aanwezig, deze was al niet meer gemonteerd toen wij hem kochten, de reden is mij niet bekend. Het kofferdeksel is wel van kunststof. De auto is uitgevoerd met leder beklede Fiat 124 stoelen (wat volgens de specialisten hoort bij een vroeg exemplaar) en heeft dus niet de veel voorkomende sportstoelen. Ook is er een Körbler hardtop gemonteerd met afneembaar targa dakje en vaste achterruit. De originele Abarth hardtop is dus niet aanwezig, wij hebben de auto destijds zo gekocht. For sale: $13.995: Update 09/2022: 96334 km. It is a fairly rare Canadian spec car that is similar to the 1983 Pininfarina Azzura. The only difference that I can make out is that Canadian cars are branded as Spidereuropas (like their European counterparts)denominated in kilometers rather than miles and have only one side view mirror - on driver side. I have owned the car for 10 years. It is completely original including the paint and the top. It has 96,000 km on the clock which translates to approximately 59,000 miles. Based on my discussions with the prior owner, I believe it has never been winter driven. Although it was rust proofed when new. A recent service included a new timing belt and radiator. It has a crack in the dash and cracks in the console that should be repaired or replaced. Other than that it's in terrific original condition. It has never been restored, simply because it didn't need to be. It's been maintained by a specialist garage. For sale: $19,000 US OBO. Update 07/2025: 96.000 Km. All original including paint, summer driven only, always garaged when not being driven, all maintenance records for the time that I've owned it, partial maintenance records from the 2 prior owners, always professionally maintained, recent maintenance includes new timing belt , radiator, front end bushings and tuneup. Perfect condition except for a crack in the dash and on the console due to sun exposure. I've owned the car for 14 years. This is a Canadian specification spidereuropa which is virtually identical to the US specification Azura. For sale: $20,000 Canadian or $16,000 US.	CDN	Safety	man.	132C3.031

I am the fourth owner of this vehicle having owned for the past 10 years. I have documented service records from myself and previous owners. I purchased the car with 49,500 miles and now has 51,500. I installed a new clutch and pressure plate and had the transmission serviced by Midwest-124. The body was manually stripped of its original lacquer paint and painted in its original deep black with modern clearcoat finish. The interior work consisted of stripping front seats and reinforcing the seat frames before recovering. Front dash was recovered, new carpet and luggage strips installed and a new canvas top installed. All interior work by R.A. Snively Designs. For handling a set of progressive wound lowering springs were installed to achieve a 1.5 inch drop in stance over stock. A Nardi wood steering wheel replaces the original which I have. The beautiful black paint with the contrasting tan interior is the best combination for this model. Everything works, has original ac that blows cool. For sale: $25.900.	US	Safety	man.	132C3.031

All receipts for the Restoration and subsequent work accompany the car, as does a Certification of Authenticity, and all Import documentation. Finished in a stunning dark blue over tan color combination, this is one of the most attractive Spiders we have seen. The car is in excellent running and driving condition, and ready for extended touring. Equally welcome on the Concours Circuit, this seldom seen variant will be a hit wherever you take it.
