Update 10/2021:DTR imported this car from California in 1995/6 and stripped it by hand to bare metal. It was the subject of a full restoration and has covered less than 25000 miles since. The interior was fully retrimmed in bisucuit leather, a new wiring loom fitted and converted fully to European specification. At the same time it was converted to right hand drive, the engine gearbox, brakes and suspension were fully overhauled and rebuilt. It still is in amazing condition and has had 4 owners in the last 24 years. Included in the sale of this high spec car is a full mechanical overhaul and repaint in the same midnight blue. It currently sits on Cromodora alloy wheels, which will be fitted with new tyres. Alternatively we have a set of steel wheels which will also be fitted with new tyres.In all about GBP18,000 will be spent on this car to bring it back to top condition and it will of course be supplied with a new MoT For sale: GBP 35,000. Update 12/2025: This ex-California car was imported into NZ in the 1990s (I think), has had original 1600 replaced by a 2 litre (probably Fiat 131) motor, mild cams, sports exhaust, 2x dual choke 42" dellorto carbs. So not the best on fuel, but makes a great induction noise. Plus lots of wind noise of course! I have owned since 2012, and driven around 30000 miles. Odo shows (1-2)24500. Was converted to RHD, seats recovered in leather, lovely wooden steering wheel, slightly lowered, all those horrible american reflectors and overriders removed and painted a very nice jag blue (was orange). It has genuine Chromadora magnesium wheels with matching set of Michelins - was assured these are from an abarth and are not repro - they have the patina to back this up. Also have factory steel wheels and a small number of spare bits and bobs. Heater disconnected, a couple of scratches from kids bikes in the garage, certainly not a trailer queen but a car to use whenever the weather allows and the need for wind in hair motoring beckons. Overall a very nice 124. Runs and drives well. Good pick-up and speed. Handles well, although the clutch does feel a little stiff. Tan vinyl top is in good shape looks to be a few years old, but rear plastic window is a bit cloudy. opens and closes fine. NO rust. All windows roll fine. All locks work well. All lights work. Wood console pieces could use some reconditioning. Interior was just redone: driver's seat, driver's carpet, upper arm rest, and rear bench were all re-upholstered. Door panels and carpet are in good shape. Dash does have cracks, you can install a "dash cap" that fits over the original and looks like the original. Clock does not have the glass/plastic. Tires are in good shape. Alloy rims are good, but would look super with a nice polish. Engine compartment was power washed and detailed. Old pull out style CRAIG CD player, Carb could use some adjusting. Here are some additional flaws: The front small grill is missing (looks like it had a fender bender in the front in the past), trunk badge is missing, there is some strange paint scattered bubbles on the front driver's fender and rear driver's fender. Part of the hood has a similar texture as well. Glove box lock is missing, but door stays. Registration is expired by a year. This Fiat comes with an APPLICATION FOR DUPLICATE TITLE, which means that the previous owner lost the title, this form is presented to the DMV when registering the car, and you receive an actual title after registration is complete. 12/2025	CS1	124CS10114107	76/07	?	USA	Delaware	Sussex Ct.	orange (Yellow) 223 Pagoda yellow)	tan	black	orange	First entry 10/2015: odometer: 66000. Transmission: MANUAL. title status: clean. The car is in decent condition. It has been sitting for a few years so it needs a little TLC. The car seems to run well but, because of sitting, it could use all of the usual maintenance items like plugs, wires, points, grease, etc. The brakes feel good and, although it needs an alignment, the steering and front end feel like they are in good working order. Mechanically, the only problems that the car has is the transmission jumps out of 2nd gear so you have to hold it in. There is also a leak in the carburetor. It looks like the gasket for the accelerator pump and I'm thinking that, from sitting, the gasket dried out and now it just needs to let some gas get absorbed so it will tighten that seal again. Also, a previous owner had removed all of the smog pump. There are a couple rust spots and bubbles on the body but, for the most part it seems like it's pretty solid. The interior is in pretty good condition and the gauges, except for the fuel gauge. For sale in 10/2015 for: $3500. Update 05/2022: New owner. Former Connecticut car. 63.000 Miles. Bought from original owner (doctor in Maryland) when it had just over 19,000 miles. I have used it primarily for weekend, secondary road touring. Absolutely solid body and frame--no rust. Last year for the 1800cc, carbaterated engine. I have replaced top, redone brakes, installed muffler and exhaust, rechromed bumpers,. Drive train all original and runs great. Carpeting faded in spots. Slight imperfections in vinyl interior and passenger side visor needs to be reglued or stitched better at seam. Sheepskin front seatcovers (vinyl underneath is excellent). Installed newer radio and tape player but only "temporary "speakers. Have original Owner's Manual and a decent shop manual. Did preliminary repairs to dents from doctor's wife garage incidents (primed areas). Put Alfa mirrors on and other mirror holes need filing. These and repairs to minor peaks and small dings are all that is required before new paint job. Needs heat riser and new insulation under the hood. One distributor screw wrung off and needs to be tapped out (but runs fine with no moisture problems as is). Have new custom cover (never used because always garaged since I have owned it). Anyway, this is a 1978 Fiat Spider that has had a makeover with parts from my bent up 1984 Pininfarina that I had. The doors, hood, trunk lid, fuel tank, engine (2 liter) and interior are all from the Pinin. It comes with any and all of the spare panels, doors, 1.8 liter engine etc that id left from the makeover. It is running on the single carb setup. It is in good condition but it is not a museum piece. It is however a very good daily driver and a base for an Abarth replica. I have the supplemental assignment of ownership and bill of sale open from the previous owner. The car is all there. Car will turn over but won't start. Transmission holds in all gears but shifter is loose. The top is in good shape other than 2 small holes which could be repaired .There is rust around rear wheels and a whole in the right rear wheel well into the trunk. Floors are solid. There is rust through under the car on either side in the cross members. Original carpet is in great shape, back seat has one tear, and passenger front seat is in decent shape with a bit of stitching coming loose. Driver seat has a few cracks and tears. Dash has one crack and dash wood is in great shape. Radio works as does wipers, turn signals, and one head light. Windows work fine and all glass is in good shape.Left rocker panel is solid,right side is damaged from a jack. Auctioned at Ebay in 11/2008 for: US $500.00.	US	Safety	man.	132A1.040.6

US Car has 26466 miles. The car has a burgundy exterior color with a tan convertible top. The engine is a 4-cylinder with carburetor. Interior is a light tan. Wheels are the original 13". The car is actually my girlfriend's uncle's car. It was given to him by his good friend that has no use for it. The uncle then decided not to restore it and wants to sell it. Car is drivable and I took it around the block. The car does need some TLC to restore it back to original condition. The mileage counter does not work, but in the last 4 years the uncle's friend has had it, it has not been driven more that 500 miles. There are some areas with rust spots. Some electronics work and some don't. I know it has a radio that powers on but didn't hear any noise from the speakers. The roof leaks but only around the joining areas, not the material itself from what I can tell. The car comes with a car cover. Car comes with electric fuel pump and has heater. Up for auction is a 1979 fiat spider 2000. This is being sold as a running parts car, it is not registered and has not been since 1993. It does run well, although I have not tried to have it smoged. I was just test driving it as I was getting ready to put it on ebay; and all lights are functioning. I wanted to turn it into my daily driver but never finished it, The paint is very oxidised, and the body has some minor rust spots. The front quarter panel on the driver side by the door has a dent from the door opening too far. It has no carpet in it, and the driver seat is in pretty bad shape. It has a new top on it, I have replaced the fuel pump, the heater core valve, thermostat, the electric boards for the rear lights, a new dash and center counsel cap or cover and a timing belt bearing. It will come with parts that I have purchased but not installed. Auctioned at Ebay in 10/2008 for: US $705.00.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Laut Vorbesitzer lief der Motor bis zur Abmeldung ohne Probleme. Ich konnte ihn aber nicht starten, da Vandalen die Armaturen gestohlen haben und dabei Kabel beschädigten. Siehe Foto. Diese Diebe waren aber riesen Deppen,denn sie hätten nur die Steckverbindungen der Uhren, Tacho usw. lösen müssen. Vorteil jetzt!! Man kann die neuen Uhren, Tacho usw. wieder leicht anschließen. Bei dem Einbruch wurde die Plexiglsscheibe vom Verdeck zerstört. Ansonsten ist das Cabriodach gut. Oldtimerzulassung - Brief vorhanden. Auf jeden Fall ist der Kühler defekt. Es muß geschweißt werden - Bodengruppe - Radkästen usw. Innenausstattung muß komplett restauriert werden. Viel Arbeit. Versteigert bei Ebay in 04/2012 für: Startpreis: EUR 500,00. Car sat for around four years in inside storage. Car seems to run good, but we have not owned the car for very long. We just bled the brakes and they seem to be working good. The car looks good, but has general Indiana car underbody rust and some small dings. We have also noticed that the fuel gauge does not work. We have alot of the original paperwork with the car(manuals, original sticker price etc. The car has been repainted and has new interior. The interior looks like kit interior. It also has a new convertible top still in the box which needs installed. The car also has brand new hubcaps. The title is signed and dated, but it was dated a few months ago so you will have to pay a late fee at the license branch. This car needs work and is a great project car for anyone. You are more than welcome to come by and check out the vehicle. Just send a message. My brother-in-law bought this car in 2001 from a man at my mothers work. When he bought it this car was pristine. However, once it stopped working my brother-in-law planned to fix it himself. this car has been sitting for approximately 5 yrs. They moved a few times and ultimately gave us the car because he new he would never have the time for it. The engine was replaced when brother-in-law purchased. Vehicle has 94,157 mi. We were told by an import shop that it would take $1000-$1500 to get the car running. With the vehicle sitting the roof has allowed for leaks around the windows. This car uses unleaded regular gasoline. It is carbureted and normally aspirated. The original carburetor has been replaced with a Webber with a mechanical linkage actuated second barrel. There are several vacuum lines near the carburetor that have been plugged. The carburetor air and mixture jets have been adjusted for operation in Colorado. Highway mileage is about 33 mpg. The engine leaks some oil; probably through the rear main seal. The engine runs well and does not overheat. The manual 5 speed transmission is perfect. The clutch is original. The heater and fan both work. All the lights work. No power steering, or windows. The clutch pedal mechanism and cable have been replaced in the last few years. The brake master cylinder has been replaced recently. This car has been a summer only commuter for the last 19 years and recently passed the Colorado Emissions Test. For the 10 years before it came to Colorado it was garaged in Las Vegas, Nevada. It is a good little car and fun to drive. The car is original and has not been restored. The upholstery is in good condition. The carpets are in good condition except where the driver's shoes have worn through the rubber mats. The paint is the original blonde color. There has been some body work to the driver's door and to the left rear quarter panel. There is a little rust on the rear quarter panels, near the wheels. The 4 Pirelli 300 tires have enough tread but they are old. The spare has tread and holds air. The jack and original Fiat tool kit are complete. The original radio (2 knobs & preset buttons) is in the console below the dash, but it doesn't work. The original dashboard has been replaced with cherry and maple wood. The original plywood panels will be given with the car. The original clock stopped working and an oil pressure gage was installed in the clock hole. The pressure sending unit is installed near the oil filter. The original clock will be given with the car. An Auto-Power roll bar is installed. The light tan soft top is in excellent condition and only 2 years old. The windshield has been replaced recently and is in perfect condition. The side vent locks have both fallen off the glass, but they are still with the car. The retaining springs in the HAZARD lights switch mechanism periodically fail, so I have placed a wooden cover, which can be rotated out of the way, over the switch to keep it latched IN. Extras: sheepskin seat covers. Full shop maintenance manual. Some spare parts and tools. Auctioned at Ebay in 06/2008 for: US $2,400.00.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Vehicle title: Clear. this 1979 Fiat Spyder 2000 convertible features: sporting 4 Cylinder 2 litre twin overhead cam engine, with electronic ignition, 2 barrel Venturi Weber Carburetor, rebuilt 5-speed manual transmission, independent front suspension, power assisted 4-wheel disc brakes, newly painted Smoke Grey Metallic Paint, partially new tan interior including carpet, and front seat covers, console cover, and many mechanical part updates. I began this restoration in 04, and I have enjoyed that, and certainly have had a great time driving the car. The car is not perfect and surely not a professional restoration, but very presentable. I recently loaded the car on a trailer and damaged the passenger door paint, and that was the deciding factor for selling it. The car is a great driver, but needs some small details completed. The car's heater core is disconnected due to leaking, and I have never tried to replace it. The car needs a fuel sending unit to work the needle, the low fuel light does work, I tried another guage and it is the same. The clock does not work, and the dash is cracked, all typical. The horn works from an auxillary button under the dash, but I have never traced the wiring into the steering button. Auctioned at Ebay in 05/2008 for: US $3,750.00.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Here for auction is an absolutley beautiful 1979 Fiat 2000 Syper. The car is a real stunner and turns heads everywhere. It was repainted a few years ago and it was a first rate job it does have a few chips but the car is dent free and it looks great it shines beautifully. The interior is all original except for the seats they were redone the same time as the paint and they look like new the rest of the interior is excellent and everything in the interior works all the gauges work even the radio the only thing that does not work is the drivers side speaker it is blown and the 4 way flasher switch is broken it will not shut off so we have it disconnected. The windshield has some smokeiness at the bottom of it it doesnt affect your veiw but I thought I would mention it. The Convertible top is very nice the back window is a little clouded but you can still see through it and the car comes with a Top boot that is like new. The car runs and drives great it was just checked out by my mechanic and everything works as it should. The motor runs smooth and has lots of power and it doesnt knock or smoke. The trans shifts smoothly and it stops well. The tires are 4 brand new goodyears on nice aftermarket Enkel style wheels. This is a Beautiful Fiat that needs nothing other then the hazard switch and a speaker which are minor things the car is far better then 95% of the Fiats out there. This is a rust free California car. Auctioned at Ebay in 06/2008 for: US $3,500.00.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

I am the third owner of this US vehicle. I bought this car a year ago, and have driven it here and there without any problems. I have driven this car for about 10000 miles. The first and second owner of this car were also local people. So this car were primarily used as a summer fun car. The exterior condition of the car is good. The body is straight, some touch up on the minor paint loss here and there will definitely make this car looking better. The engine runs smoothly. All gears works as they should. The third gear synchro needs some service but it doesn't pop out gear or anything. It was the way it was when I bought it. The second owner changed timing belt professionally (it's about 15000 miles ago). The tires still have some life left. The chromes bumpers look nice. I would recommend to have them professionally aligned. This car has never got into any accidents. Everything is original. The interior looks nice. WINDSHIELD HAS SCRAPE FROM WIPER BUT YOU HAVE ANOTHER GOOD WINDSHIELD INCLUDED. Auctioned at Ebay in 08/2007 for: US $1,518.00 Reserve not met. Update 11/2025: new owner. So I've known about this car for almost 2 decades. All of the turbo components were long gone; it had the engine swapped with a normal fuel injected engine, but it still had the fender decals from Legend Industries, as well as the boost gauge on the dash. At the time, the transmission was bad but it had a used 5spd trans in the trunk. My dad wound up purchasing the car from a mutual friend, swapped the transmission, and was dailying the car during the summer. One fateful day, he backed into a boat trailer in his driveway and screwed up the rear driver's fender, which sucks, because until that point the car had original paint. He then drove it do a buddy's bodyshop, where they disassembled the car to prep for body/paint. The dent was repaired, the door mid trim holes were all welded shut, as were all the holes on the trunk from the luggage rack. Now the car is roughed in, but it probably needs a shot of filler primer, then blocked, then paint. It's an absolutely rust free car, the undercarriage is pretty much spotless, I don't think it's ever seen winter, and being indoors for the past 20-30 years has helped a ton.	US	Safety	man.	132C3.031

He says it was cosmetically restored in 2013, with a full repaint in its original color. The 1.6-liter DOHC inline-four is believed original and said to run well. There's a new coil and the seller has upgraded the car to electronic ignition. The interior appears in good condition, but with a large crack on the dash top. The dash and console are custom mahogany replacements. Gauges, lights, and signals are all in working order, per the seller. 10/2025	BS1	124BS10050777	71	72	USA	Pennsylvania	Pittsburgh	red (317 green)	black	black	rot	83.500 Miles TMU. Manual transmission. This particular 1972 Fiat 124 Spider is a project car, offered US with a host of spare parts including an extra engine block, cylinder head, transmission, radiator, and a pair of wheels. Purchased by the seller in Florida in 1988, it served as a daily driver until 1998, after which it was stored and reportedly covered under a deck. Finished in red over a tan interior, the seller notes the original color may have been British Racing Green based on the factory chassis tag. Mechanically, the seller claims the engine turns freely and was treated to new piston rings and ground valves approximately 2,000 miles before storage. The transmission was reportedly replaced around the same time. The spare block requires an oil pump shaft, and the spare transmission may need a second gear synchro. Rust is present in typical 124 locations, including the rocker panels, and one front shock tower has been previously replaced. The seller notes the doors close properly when the car is on its wheels, but sag slightly when on jack stands. The convertible top is intact, though it may need some stitching. The interior features cloth front seats with leather surrounds—likely a period modification for comfort in Florida's climate. Auctioned at Hergerty in 10/2025 for: Starting Bid $0. YOU ARE LOOKING AT A LOW MILEAGE (57K)1978 FIAT SPIDER, 124 CONVERTIBLE. IT HAS THE 1800 4CYL DUAL OVERHEAD CAM ENGINE WITH THE 5 SPEED TRANSMISSION. I JUST GOT THIS TODAY FROM A LADY WHO SAID SHE WAS THE ORIGINAL OWNER . SHE WAS DRIVING IT UP UNTIL 2 YEARS AGO WHEN IT DEVELOPED A STALLING PROBLEM SO SHE PARKED IT IN HER HEATED GARAGE AND THERE IT SAT UNTIL TODAY. I PUT A FRESH BATTERY IN IT AND IT STARTED RIGHT UP AND RAN GREAT FOR ABOUT 5 MINUTES THEN IT STALLED, I CHECKED AND IT HAD NO SPARK , I CHECKED THE POINTS AND WHEN I PUT THE CAP BACK ON IT STARTED AND RAN FOR OVER 15 MINUTES UNTIL I SHUT IT OFF. I HAVE NO IDEA WHAT IS CAUSING THIS SO I WOULD SAY IT NEEDS TO BE TOWED HOME. THE INTERIOR IS IN PRETTY DECENT SHAPE THE DRIVERSIDE SEAT HAS SOME SPLITS IN THE LOWER CUSHION, THE RED RUGS SHOULD BE REPLACED ,SOME CRACKS IN THE DASHBOARD, SOME HANNA MONTANNA STICKERS ON THE GLOVE BOX DOOR. IT HAD AN AFTERMARKET RADIO IN IT BUT IT IS GONE NOW, ALONG WITH THE SPEAKERS. THE TOP IS NO LONGER ON THE CAR. THE FRAME WORK FOR THE TOP APPEARS TO BE ALL THERE. THE FLOORS AND FRAME ALL SEEMS TO BE VERY SOLID WITH NO OR MINIMAL SURFACE RUST. THE EXHAUST LOOKS AS IT WAS REPLACED RECENTLY,AS WELL AS SOME BRAKE WORK. THE TIRES ARE DRY ROTTED AND NEED TO BE REPLACED. OVER ALL I THINK THIS CAR WOULD BE A VERY EASY RESTORATION PROJECT FOR SOMEONE. Auctioned at Ebay in 12/2007 for: US $710.00.	US	Safety	man.	1800 cc

Nice Fiat 124 1.8 liter Spider carbureted twin overhead cam. Engine runs great and gears shifts well. $20,000 in receipts between two owners dating back to 1995. New top. The car has been garaged and is currently owned by a well-known musician from a well-known band. For sale: $9,700. Update 11/2025: This 1978 Fiat 124 Sport Spider was purchased in 2010 by Xan McCurdy, the guitarist for the alternative rock band Cake. It is finished in blue with yellow accents over tan leather upholstery and is powered by a 1.8-liter inline-four paired with a five-speed manual transmission. The car rolls on 13" Cromodora alloy wheels, and additional equipment includes a replacement tan soft top, four-wheel disc brakes, fog lights, a wood-rimmed steering wheel, a heater, and a Kenwood head unit. Work since 2022 has included changing the fluids and replacing the timing belt, head gasket, alternator, drive belt, and spark plugs. This 124 Sport Spider is now offered by the seller with a repair manual, partial service records, and a clean Oregon title in the current owner's name. Auctioned at BaT in 11/2025 for: Bidding Open. I am offering for auction my 1978 Fiat Spider 1800. The car has new paint (Fiat Green) including replacing most of the chrome. It has new shocks, new wheels and Michelin tires. It also has new brakes (calipers, lines and pads). It has a new water pump and thermostat, it has new plugs and wires as well as new exhaust manifold and Monza muffler. Lastly I have added new carpet. The top is not new but it is in good condition with no tears. The previous owner told me he rebuilt the engine and reset the odometer so I am pretty certain the engine has 34,134 miles. The car is not perfect (the passenger seat has a thumbnall size tear and some cracking; showing some of its 30 year age). I have put over $10,000 in this car since I bought it. The 5 speed manual transmission is nice and tight with no slap, the steering is tight, it tracks and runs beautifully - all in all it is a fun car to drive and it looks great. Drove it to put fresh gas in it then gave it a wash. Still runs good. but needs some TLC. Not a typical "project car" as it really is a decent car but needs a good cleaning up and attention to detail. Pretty solid. The 1800cc carbureted engine runs and the car handles well. Still has the original dual point distributor with fresh points. While up on jacks in the garage the past 2 years I installed all new brake rotors, calipers (4 wheel discs), hoses, & brake pads, power brake booster, electric fuel pump, radiator electric fan, main & rod bearings, and a couple gauges. And a box with lots of new parts included. Has a few little bumps, bruises and paint has a few "bad" spots. There is a bit of rust here and there, mainly on the rear decklid/cargo rack, and some on the wheels. No upholstery in rear due to rollbar and top needs replaced (new replacement included). It's due for a timing belt change (have new replacement but needs installed). For sale: 5.000 $	US	Safety	man.	1800 cc

Fiat Spider Pininfarina 2-liter carburetor model. Incredibly original condition. The paint is flawless and mostly original. No rust. Some minor paintwork has been done to repair very slight cosmetic damage sustained during container transport. The interior is in equally excellent condition. Even the soft top is original and shows only very minor signs of aging. Mechanically regularly maintained, and the 2-liter Lambredi engine runs smoothly and accelerates strongly. The 5-speed gearbox is smooth and precise. Previously owned by a woman and stored in a heated garage. This may sound like sales talk, but it is true in this case. Bought new in America in 1979 and returned to Great Britain with the owner in 2001; since then it has only covered 7,500 miles. It has subsequently been run under a cover in the garage on a trickle charger and used very sparingly. Now registered as a historic vehicle. For sale: 16,000 GBP	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

(1)32.000 km. Transmission manual. The car was originally delivered to California from new, but in 1990 was imported to Denmark, where the previous owner (yes - he's had the car for over 30 years!), initially had some challenges with the state car inspection due to regulations in US / EU for documentation of safety and various approvals, it finally succeeded in 1993 to put Danish plates on the car and had it until the end of 2023 - along the way, the car has undergone various restorations where, among other things, it has been changed in color from the original beige to this deep green metallic paint which goes really well with the beige leather seats and hood. The car was born with a carburettor and has since been upgraded with an engine with direct injection, which, together with the ultra-precise 5-speed gearbox and the classic "Italian whiff" in the exhaust, gives a fantastic roadster that is fun to drive. Lots of history and documentation for maintenance over the years on the car is included Speedometer shows 32,000 km - but no guarantee. For sale: 21.500 EUR. I bought this 1982 FIAT fuel-injected 2000 Spider almost 9 years ago and have driven it only about 14,000 miles in that time. I bought it with 76KM (48K) and it now has 98.4KM(62K). It is used as a Summer-only occasional driver and stored in my garage in winter or incimate weather periods. It's the second FIAT 124 Spider I have owned and both were terrific cars – I owned the first one for 8 years (a 1979 carbureted 2-liter). It had a couple very small rust spots I had repaired on the driver side rear quarter. I wet sanded the car myself before having it painted and it came out great. I had an Italian prior FIAT mechanic do most of the work when I owned the car. it runs great. It accelerates really well. This car has had all the maintenance done to it both when I owned it and the previous owner. I have most of the records for it. The previous owner did quite a bit of work on it. Offered for sale is this exceptionally well-preserved and increasingly rare 1981 Fiat 124 Spider Turbo, finished in a beautiful light blue metallic paint with a tan convertible soft top. I own an auto body repair shop, and the Fiat was brought to us as the result of a mild front-end collision in sept of 2009. The insurance company opted to deem it a total loss rather than repair, because of its age and the type of vehicle it was. The insurance company settled with the owner and chose not to take the vehicle. We were unable to contact the owner after numerous attempts over the years and eventually proceeded with obtaining ownership through the mechanics lien process and acquired a clean unbranded title in the company's name in March 2013. Because the Fiat was in good condition and the damage was minor, we proceeded restoring it. Auctioned at Ebay in 10/2025. Now for sale: US $19,500.00.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Air Conditioning, Power Windows. Leather Seats. Vehicle Title: Clear. The top has been patched, does not leak. Power Windows and Air Conditioning (rare) Removable radio face place. Set of original car keys. Only 2 owners That I am aware of, Texas and Nola. I had a kill switch installed that requires the lights to be on in order to start the vehicle, to detour theft. I have Original owners manual. Just replace: Coolant Sensor, Coolant Temperature sending unit, Coolant system flushed, new coolant. Located in Miami, FL. Auctioned at Ebay in 06/2015 for: Starting bid: US $7,799.00. Update 03/2022: New owner. Former Illinois (US) car. One UK owner. Imported from Florida. Original condition. 2.0ltr DOHC engine. Odometer shows 28,000 miles. It was originally a dry-state Texas car, but our vendor imported it from Florida in 2014 and has owned it ever since. The red coachwork looks fresh and straight. Our vendor does advise us it had been repainted before he bought it. We would guess that was some years before, because the overall condition of the outside looks good. Some surface corrosion on the boot lid closing panel, some small bubbles on the paint on the doors and one rear quarter. The chrome work on the bumpers, doors, door handles, petrol filler cap all look respectable condition. The wheels look original and in decent condition. The interior follows the same theme as the outside. It is all in reasonably good condition. It is all complete and original but would benefit from a spruce up. The dash is complete and undamaged if a little sun damaged. The seats again, look original.The 2.0 DOHC is a joy. A good original LHD classic Italian sports car that needs some elbow grease to turn it quickly into a very good LHD Italian sports car. There is nothing not to like about this endearing, charming, honest classic. It is ready to use now. The mileage since arriving in the UK has been minimal. To be auctioned at Evoke Classics in UK. Update 10/2025: New owner. Formerly driven in Gloucestershire, (1)27,450 Miles. Classically approved, tax and TUV-free. Well-maintained condition and a wonderful car to drive that sounds great. New dashboard and stainless steel Longlife exhaust. Recently serviced and brakes overhauled with completely new tires. New chrome bumpers installed with a complete suspension overhaul, including new springs and sports shock absorbers. For sale: 10.750 GBP.	US	Chrome	man.	2000 cc

Selling my 1984 Fiat Azzurra Pininfarina 2000 Spider California Car. I've had the car for a little over 5 years, I painted the car in Rosso Corsa red from the 90's matching the Testarossa red. The paint is Glasurit with 5 coats of Glasurit clear and it shines like a mirror. The body is very straight and very smooth. Car has 98K original miles. It has a new interior, new carpet, new seats, new dash wood, new floor mats, new top, the top frame was stripped down and painted, has a new undercoat, and freshly restored wheels. Everything works except the AC, the belt is off and I never tried to get it running. Auctioned at Ebay in 10/2025 for: Current Bid US $2,878.28.	US	Safety	man.	2000 cc

Dieser Spidereuropa wurde als eines der letzten Exemplare im März 1985 an den Clubpräsidenten des 124-Club in Fürth ausgeliefert (Jahrgang 1940) und 1994 durch den Vorbesitzer von diesem erworben. Der KM-Stand zeigte kaum über 20tkm, das Fahrzeug befand sich nahezu komplett im Erstlack, unrestauriert und ungeschweisst, und wurde nur bei schönstem Wetter bewegt. Und genau mit dieser Zuwendung wurde der Wagen in den letzten 31 Jahren gesegnet: Mehr gewartet als gefahren, regelmäßig wurde z.B. ein großer Service mit Zahnriemenwechsel durchgeführt (zuletzt in 06/2023 vor 500 KM). Es existieren zahlreiche Belege und Dokumente aus den Jahren, die die Laufleistung untermauern, und auch der erste originale KFZ-Brief und die Bordermappe sind vorhanden. Optimierungen, wie die optisch passenderen Außenspiegel, sowie Federn und Räder vom Volumex wurden verbaut. Eine fast "unsichtbare" Veränderung: Die Sitze vom Ferrari 308 sind sportlicher und ergonomisch idealer. Zu verkaufen: 21.900 EUR.	Euro	Safety	man.	132C3.031

Update from 04/2017: Further details. Update 10/2021: One of 7 cars imported new by Dennis J. Hands (Basingstoke) Ltd in 1985 to Hampshire (UK). Update 10/2025: Pininfarina Spider Azzurra 1985. One of the 6 cars converted to right hand from new. Unusually, this car was converted back to left hand drive, but retains all of the original right hand drive parts to convert back if desired. It has never been welded and retains all of the original factory panels. The first and only repaint has been done by us, together with a new mohair soft top. The price includes a full mechanical refresh with new brakes, hoses, discs and pads, new shock absorbers, new bushing to front suspension and many other new perishable parts. The engine will be removed, stripped and inspected prior to sale with a new clutch fitted, new gaskets, cambelt, tensioner and water pump. It displays less than 60,000 miles from new, with original leather interior and carpeting, all in very good and original condition. New tyres on as new original Cromodora alloy wheels.
