It has been in non-op status for last 2 years. I run it up and down a private road periodically to keep running well. The body is rust free as this is a calif. Car. It was repainted 5 years ago with dupont contour paint. The color is the same as the original. There are no dents and the paint is in good condition. The paint is down to primer in 2 places about the size of a silver dollar. This happened from the car cover rubbing in a high wind condition last year. The interior is in good condition with the only tear in the pass back rest. The dash is bad but I glued a dash mat to it and it looks ok. It needs a new top. The front end has been gone thru new ball joints, tie rod ends & bushings. Tires are good with approx 10,000 mi on them. The smog equip has been removed completely, it runs very well in this condition. I have the parts but I think it would be better if you lived in an area where 76 cars are exempt. The brakes are in need of work, new master cylinder and rebuild wheel cylinders. The center console was bad so I glued another piece over the bad part. Glass is good and windows work. The antenna is broken at the base. Timing belt as well as phenolic cam pulleys were replaced as well as the oil seals on the cams and aux crank. It has electronic ignition. Fiat has been stored for approx 10 years, it is from california, I believe it was bought new there, I am the third owner. It was repainted just before being stored, no body work or rust repair, just repaint original color due to fading. I added stabi and kept battery on a tender, I pull it out a couple of times per year to drive it around the block, sometimes after sitting the brake pedal goes to floor and I wont stay running until I let it run for a while. It always starts ok and runs fine after warming up. The brake seem to work fine after bleeding, the left vent window latch has come off, I'm not sure if I have lever.it is driveable but has been sitting for a long time, so should be checked over thoroughly first, the top is in good shape, but has a seam over driver side approx 4 inches coming apart. Der Spider wurde im Oktober 1979 produziert (wir haben die schriftliche Bestätigung von Fiat), lief 10 Jahre in Amerika und wurde 1989 erstmals in Deutschland angemeldet. Der Vordrseitzer hat ihn zum Abarth Replica von einer Fachwerkstatt umbauen lassen, alle Rechnungen sind vorhanden. Dem Auto wurde u.a. auch ein Bilstein Fahrwerk verbaut (natürlich eingetragten), was ein sehr sportliches Fahren, ermöglicht. Eine sportliche Auspuffanlage wurde auch verbaut, der Sound ist gigantisch. Der Motor scheint deutlich mehr Leistung zu haben, als die hier angegeben 80 PS. Zwei Roststellen sind vorhanden, nicht schlimm, einmal Fahrertür und einmal Kotflügel hinten rechts. Leider hält uns unser Karsensenebauer immer wieder versetzt, sodass wir dies nie haben machen lassen, was auch nicht notwendig war, da der Wagen nie Wasser gesehen hat, außer beim Waschen. Der Spider hat ein Oldtimer Gutachten, was Versicherung und Steuer stark reduziert. Das Verdeck ist neuwertig. Bei der Laufleistung könnten es auch Meilen sein laut Tacho. Das Auto ist angemeldet. THIS IS AN AUTHENTIC BARN FIND. IT HAS BEEN IN THE GARAGE EVER SINCE 1998. THE ORIGINAL OWNER SOLD IT TO A FRIEND BACK IN 1985. THIS SECOND OWNER USED IT ON A OFF UNTILL 1996 WHEN THE CARS ENGINE DIED. IN THAT OCCASION THE SECOND OWNER CLAIMED THE ENGINE DAMAGE TO THE INSURANCE COMPANY. THE INSURANCE PAID FOR THE VALUE OF THE CAR AND BRANDED THE VEHICLE AS A SALVAGE ONE. THE CAR HAS A REBUILT TITLE. THE ORIGINAL OWNER BOUGHT IT BACK, PURCHASED A BRAND NEW ENGINE IN ITALY AND HAD IT PROFESSIONALLY INSTALLED IN NAPLES FLORIDA. IN FEBRUARY 1998 THE OWNERS SON HIT THE CAR'S FENDER WITH THE GARAGE DOOR.... THAT WAS THE LAST TIME THE CAR WAS EVER USED. IT COMES WITH BOTH SOFT AND HARD TOPS. IT ALSO HAS A FACTORY ORIGINAL LUGGAGE CARRIER IN THE TRUNK. BACK IN 1997 THE 4 TIRES WERE REPLACED BUT THEY HAVE BEEN FLAT FOR YEARS, SO I WILL ASSUME THEY ARE NOT GOOD. ANYMORE. 										This 1979 Fiat Spider 2000 has been in the family since it was purchased brand new in December of 1979. The car is a red Pontonaria-designed Spider 2000 finished with a beige soft top and beige leather seats. It's equipped with an automatic transmission. For the past couple of decades, it's been used as a fun summer car, and it shows only about 75.568 miles. Condition is honest, good driver quality. The paint has held up well. There are no dents and it has never been in any major accident. It has been well maintained throughout its life, with recent work consisting of routine tune-ups rather than anything major. The interior is in great shape, and the original seats and upholstery have held up well. For sale: $12,000 OBO.

										Mileage 64309. Transmission manual. Vehicle Title clean. I'm listing this car for a friend who purchased it about 10 years ago with intentions of fixing the motor and making it road worthy again. However, he never got to it. The motor cranks and starts easily on starter fluid, but has what sounds like a rod knock. The body is solid with little rust as can be seen in the photos. Bottom isn't bad, but may need some floor repairs. Chrome is nice with little or no pitting. Glass appears good and interior is usable as is. Top frame is there, but will need new soft top. The odometer shows 64.309 miles. There is no way to document the miles as accurate so is being sold as True Miles Unknown. 										First entry 11/2024: Here is a 1980 Fiat 124 Spider 2000 5-Speed Manual Convertible which is powered by a 2.0 litre inline four-cylinder engine complemented by a five-speed manual transmission sending power to the rear wheels. It is finished in blue over a matching blue interior. Wheels are by FIAT and measure 14 inches, each with a conspicuous "MADE IN ITALY" inscription. This 124 has a four-wheel disc brake system and comes with a new soft top - it was found in the trunk in our car review video; seller pledges to have it installed for the new owner; there is also a boot to cover the soft top when in the down position. For Ontario buyers: the car will be delivered with an Ontario Safety Standards Certificate. Auctioned at collectorcarcanada.ca in 11/2024.
										Update 08/2026: New owner. (128.000 km. A solid runner in mechanically great shape! I've put over 8.000 trouble free km during my ownership. Upgrades and recent work includes aluminum crossflow cylinder head, street/strip cam, upgraded exhaust, new top, new radio, new wiper motor & linkage, rebuilt driveshaft (u-joints, guibo & support bearing), rebuilt brake calipers all around, new rear rotors and pads, all brake flex lines, brake fluid flush, rear axle seals & diff fluid, wheel alignment. Also replaced the fuse box so it now uses modern, easy to find fuses, no more electrical gremlins due to burnt out fuses! Recently detailed.Rust wise, the driver's side rear fender is bubbling but the rest of the body is in very good shape. There is some physical rust on suspension components and frame rails, but keep in mind it's also 46 years old! Doors are good. For sale: $10.500.

I am the 3rd owner of this car and the last owner was someone in my family. I've owned it four many years and have garage parked it the whole time. The mileage is low and I have kept it in great condition. I have replaced these parts: convertible top, dashboard, seats, gaskets, water pump. I reconditioned the radiator and various parts. Car is in great condition. There's no rust as car was rust proofed when new. Chrome is like new, there are no tears in interior or seats. Nearly everything is original, paint, interior, decals, alloy wheels. The things that don't work are: blinkers (needs flasher), A/C (never cared to check it out), Turbo needs servicing and car needs new tires. One rear fender needs some work as it was bent and was hammered out. Paint is good but of course it is 22 years old. This car looks hot and runs and handles awesome.Auctioned at ebay in 04/2005 for: Starting bid: US $500.00. Update 10/2015: New owner. Former Florida car. Mileage: 80.200. Vehicle Title: Clear. I have owned this spider for 10 years. During the time that I owned this car, I have replaced many parts to ensure reliability and performance to the highest possible level. The body on this car is solid. Paint work looks great and is believed to be mostly original. However, there are some small scratches and minor door dings Always garage stored under my ownership and taken on numerous summer drives. I drive the car on a regular basis. The transmission shifts smoothly, and the engine produces good power. Auctioned at Ebay in 10/2015 for: Current bid: US $10.990.00 Reserve not met. 																	VIN: ZFRAS00BXE5504487. First entry 06/2020: 133k Miles Shown. Five-Speed Manual Gearbox. Clean California title. Power Windows. Powersport Wheels. This 1984 Pininfarina Azurra was acquired in 2019 by the seller, who has added 600 of the 133k miles shown. The exterior was repainted black approximately a decade ago during previous ownership. Auctioned at BaT in 06/2020 for: Current Bid: $3,200. Update 08/2021: New owner. Former California car. This 1984 Pininfarina Azurra is finished in black over a tan interior and is powered by a 2.0-liter inline-four paired with a five-speed manual gearbox. Equipment includes a tan soft top, silver 14" Powersport wheels, four-wheel disc brakes, an aluminum radiator, a twin-outlet exhaust, electric windows, and a Nakamichi AM/FM/CD stereo. The car was acquired by the seller in a June 2020 auction on BaT, and subsequent work included rebuilding the engine and replacing the radiator. This Azurra is now offered with manufacturer's literature, service records since 2003, a clean Carfax report, and a clean Texas title in the seller's name. Auctioned at BaT in 08/2021: Sold For $13,750. New owner. Former Texas car. Last year I bought a 1984 Pininfarina Spider on auction that had had the engine rebuilt by Allison Automotive, in Upland, California, USA. I had some additional work done on it there: Replaced steering wheel with a larger, wooden one, reupholstered seats in two-tone vinyl and added a boot cover, stainless steel bumper conversions, front LED turn signals and European style LED marker lights replacing the large American marker lights. Since then I have brought it to Hawaii and have replaced the rear taillight boards to complete external LED light conversions, and replaced heater hoses with premium quality green silicone ones. I am currently upgrading vacuum hoses and radiator hoses with blue silicone ones and replacing wormgear hose clamps with the correct constant tension hose clamps, am cleaning and painting various engine parts. I will be adding noise and heat insulation soon. Update 08/2026: New owner, new license plate. Registration found by license plate ID at faviin.com in 2026.	US	Chrome	man.	2000 cc

																	Zu verkaufen steht mein wunderschöner Fiat Spider124 Pininfarina aus dem Jahr 1985. Das Fahrzeug ist seit 36 Jahren in der Familie und gepflegt. Wurde nur im Sommer und bei schönem Wetter gefahren. Garagenfahrzeug. Leider habe ich nicht mehr die Mühe dieses schöne Fahrzeug zu bewegen und hab mich jetzt entschlossen es an einen Liebhaber abzugeben. 500 - 1000 km im Jahr ist einfach zu wenig. Dieses Auto hat einen Katalysator (grüne Plakette) und deshalb hab ich kein H - Kennzeichen gemacht, da mit ihm überall gefahren werden darf. Das Verdeck wurde vor ca. 15 Jahren erneuert. Habe mich für ein schwarzes Stoffdach entschieden. Die elektrischen Fensterheber funktionieren beide. Zylinderkopfdichtung erneuert 2014. Batterie ist ca. 3 Jahre alt und wurde im Winter immer ausgebaut. Der Fahrersitz hat Gebrauchsspuren. Die Historie des Fahrzeuges ist nachvollziehbar. Die erforderlichen Servicearbeiten wurden regelmäßig durchgeführt.

																			VIN: ZFRAS0B5F5511901. First entry 12/2007: One of the last known VINs of a Pininfarina Spider found via http://www.autocheck.com . Records found for this vehicle: 16. Update 09/2023: Mileage 89500. Vehicle Title Clean. Transmission Manual. 1985.5 Pininfarina Spider Azzurra...a rare beauty, only 1200 were made and less than 200 are in the US. We are the 3rd owners of this wonderful car. We have ALL service records from 2001 on as well as clean title and CarFax. The exterior of the car was refurbished 15 years ago with rust removal and new paint. Some minor rust has reappeared, but it's small. The rear vinyl window is unfortunately cut, but the car has been garage stored. The interior needs a bit of love. Seats need new upholstery and the dash is cracked. Door panels should be repaired. The car runs VERY WELL. Power comes from a 2.0-liter DOHC inline-four paired with a replacement five-speed manual transmission. Original equipment consists of rack-and-pinion steering, 14" eight-spoke wheels, four-wheel disc brakes, a Momo three-spoke steering wheel, an aftermarket CD stereo with amp and speakers. The car has NEW tires and brakes. Upgraded Ansa exhaust as well as new shocks and springs. He electrical system also needs a bit of love as the horn is not functional and turn signals are fickle. Auctioned at Ebay in 09/2023 for: Current bid: US $5,000.00 Reserve not met. Update 03/2026: New owner. Former Washington D.C. car. This 1973 Fiat 124 Sport Spider was the subject of a refurbishment following its purchase by the seller last year. The car was disassembled, and its bodywork was stripped, repaired, primed, and refinished in the Ferrari shade of Argento Auteuil. The seats were reupholstered in red leather, the door panels and dashboard were refreshed and redyed, and the cabin was reassembled with replacement wood trim and a wood-rimmed steering wheel. The 1.6-liter inline-four benefited from a top-end overhaul that included replacing the head gasket, timing belt, and water pump, and the cooling system and carburetor were overhauled. The engine block, radiator, and intake assembly were cleaned and refinished, and so were the suspension and steering systems, the transmission, the differential, and the undercarriage. This refurbished 124 Sport Spider shows 84k miles and is now offered with a typed parts summary, invoices, photographs from the refurbishment, and a Pennsylvania title in the seller's name. It was upgraded with a rollbar for safety, which I assume was because the man from Alameda drove his child in the car. Some little toys were found under the seat. Was kept outside under a cover, so rust developed on the side exposed to the fog. Now kept in garage, and I'm refreshing suspension and hope to make it a runabout on nice days. Engine runs well. The car was remained in her ownership until early 1990 when it was sold and imported to the UK and registered here as BLE 4825 on 17th August 1990 and the total mileage covered at that time was 84,397 Miles. It was subsequently sold by Fiat 124 specialist DTR Sportscars to ist first owner in Barnes, London, SW13 on 28th August 1990 and he kept the car for 8 years before it was sold to the current owner in 1998 who has now owned the car for 22 years! The car was regularly serviced by DTR until 2008 and there are lots of invoices in the file for various works but it was hardly used from 2009 through to 2014 and was then put in storage until last year. Between 2008 and 2019 it has only covered just over 2.000 miles and it has now covered a believed genuine 120,399 miles from new. There are some paint blemishes on the bodywork, but nothing drastic and overall it really is very nice. The underside is totally rust free being an ex-Californian car and the interior trim is actually pretty good and commensurate with its age. Overall this is a very nice car which is mechanically excellent and it really does drive exceptionally very well. It does come with its original Fiat Service book and Drivers Handbook, original Keys. This 1973 Fiat 124 Abarth Rally is one of an estimated 995 examples produced for homologation in FIA Group 4 competition between 1972 and 1975. Chassis 0064383 was purchased by two-time World Champion Miki Biasion circa 2017 and later repainted under his ownership. The seller acquired the car out of Monaco in 2024 and subsequently imported it to the US. Power is supplied by an Abarth-tuned 1.750cc Lampredi inline-four with dual Weber carburetors, while shifting is via a five-speed manual transmission linked with a limited-slip differential. The car features several fiberglass bodywork components including a removable hardtop, hood, and flared fenders along with fixed-back bucket seats and a roll bar. It is further equipped with 13" Cromodora wheels, a four-wheel independent suspension, and disc brakes. This 124 Abarth Rally CSA is now offered with a Florida title in the seller's name. The seats have been re-trimmed in vinyl instead of the original leather but overall the interior is good and only needs minor tlc. All Pininfarina numbered plaques are with the car (they normally go missing). The hood is getting tired so would need replacing at some point but isnt too bad and all works. I bought the car with approx. 10k miles on it from the second owner when I lived in Austin, Texas. It was originally purchased in CA and has all the CA emissions controls. I drove it daily until I moved back to NJ in the summer of 1987 and had a spinal cord injury in August 1987. I include that here because I haven't personally driven it since then. It hasn't been driven in the winter up here at all and currently has a valid NJ inspection. This car has only been kept under a car cover during the time here and has seen better days. It is not in prime condition, the paint is in pretty poor shape and it's starting to rust. The brakes are good, just had the master cylinder and hoses replaced last summer. It sat for a year or so around 1994 and I had the fuel pump and filter replaced, fuel system drained and cleaned including injectors, the gas tank cleaned and recoated and the timing belt replaced in 1995. It always shifted great when I drove it and still seems to be fine. I crunched the passenger's side front quarter panel and hood in an accident in 1984. It was repaired professionally but the passenger's door sticks slightly and has a brand new replacement door handle which doesn't seem to fit exactly. The side view mirror is new, I still have the original. It has nicks and dings here and there. The top is good, I replaced it a few years ago – very clear window. Cromadora wheels are fading, pitting somewhat. I have 3 out of 4 center caps for the wheels, they are irreplaceable, they have 'Limited Edition' on them instead of the Fiat logo. The seats are leather and original, although for some reason the passenger's seat aged differently in the center. Auctioned at ebay in 04/2005 to jwo6393 for: US $1,586.00. Transmission: Manual. Condition: Excellent. This car has less than 8000 original miles! It was purchased new by personal friends as an investment. The body and paint are original and are perfect with the exception of a very small door ding on each door. The dash carpets, door upholstery and seats are as new except for one small (3/4 inch) repair to the driver's seat back. The top, tonneau, and front body protection mesh are in excellent original condition. It has electric windows, stereo and A.C. This is a new car! It has Bosch fuel injection, and the great oil pressure you would expect from a car of this mileage. The five speed manual transmission shifts and performs as new, the brakes and steering are in new condition. The car has the original manual and warranty book. It has a few receipts but with so few miles there is no real service work. The car needs to have the A.C. serviced. For sale: $18,000 negotiable. Update 09/2019: This car is essentially a new car. Bought as an investment, it was driven little and always stored in a heated garage. It has just over 8100 original miles. The body and paint is factory. 														VIN: ZFAAS00B48B183690. First entry 12/2014: Miles: 73855. Transmission: Manual. Title: Clear. It was originally purchased in 1981 by a woman in Southern Cal who owned the car for 23 years until she gave it to her brother on November 12, 2004. This car spent nearly all its life in warm, sunny, salt-free California and it shows. Her brother had the car shipped to his home in Marblehead, Mass where he kept it parked in his garage. He put only 759 miles on the car before selling it to me. This is essentially a one driving owner car. This spider is mechanically sound and can be driven right now. This car has it all! Paint is absolutely clean, beautiful, and glossy! All rubber trim and chrome are clean. The ride is smooth, quiet and powerful!. The entire interior is in amazing original condition. The convertible soft top is BRAND NEW and crafted in tan vinyl. Its plastic rear window is crystal clear. Talk about originality! I know it has fairly high mileage, but I just had the compression checked and it's between 130 and 145 psi so it's quite good. Car runs great! For sale: $6200. Update 07/2026: new owner. Former California (US) car. Odometer: 143.668 Kilometers. Transmission: 5-Speed Manual. Steering: Right Hand Drive. The paint holds reasonable gloss across the visible panels with minor stone chipping evident on the bonnet leading edge, consistent with a vehicle of this age and mileage. The bodywork is straight with no obvious creases or major dents, and the chrome trim shows light surface oxidation typical of a classic car that has seen regular use. The convertible roof mechanism operates and the hood stows neatly. Interior trim shows honest wear appropriate to 143.668 kilometres, with the blue vinyl seats displaying patina but remaining structurally sound. The dashboard retains its original wood-effect trim and the steering wheel shows period-appropriate wear. All gauges are visible and the fuel injection system has been maintained. The 2.0-litre inline-four engine bay presents clearly with no obvious leaks or corrosion, and the 5-speed manual gearbox engages positively through all ratios. Condition Excellent. I am the fourth owner of this vehicle having owned for the past 10 years. I have documented service records from myself and previous owners. I purchased the car with 49,500 miles and now has 51,500. I installed a new clutch and pressure plate and had the transmission serviced by Midwest-124. The body was manually stripped of its original lacquer paint and painted in its original deep black with modern clearcoat finish. The interior work consisted of stripping front seats and reinforcing the seat frames before recovering. Front dash was recovered, new carpet and luggage strips installed and a new canvas top installed. All interior work by R.A. Snively Designs. For handling a set of progressive wound lowering springs were installed to achieve a 1.5 inch drop in stance over stock. A Nardi wood steering wheel replaces the original which I have. The beautiful black paint with the contrasting tan interior is the best combination for this model. Everything works, has original ac that blows cool. For sale: $25,900. Update 07/2026: 52k Miles Shown. This 1984 Pininfarina Azurra was initially delivered to Tom Wood Toyota in Indianapolis, Indiana, and was purchased by the seller from a member of its original owner's family in 2015. Subsequent work included repainting the body, refinishing the beige vinyl bucket seats, replacing the tan soft top, and installing a replacement clutch assembly for the five-speed manual transmission. Powered by a 2.0-liter inline-four, the car is equipped with four-wheel disc brakes, 14" Cromodora alloy wheels, power windows, and a cassette stereo.
